Superwoman

Today, women across the board are striving to strike the effortless balance between the multiple roles they play in life and are under the constant unsaid expectation to be thriving at it. But here's a reminder to all the "superwomen" to pause and remove that metaphorical cape sometimes, after all you're human too.

This narrative is inspired by the stories of many a superwomen all around each one of us celebrating the other side of what goes into making them pulkitneetri 1d

Awesome concept. Stuck a chord deep inside when I saw it. I think all working women would be going through this everyday. We are humans afterall not robots!

that.gemini.boy 3d

Loved the human side of a superwoman. What's makes us wonders is that humans. We have emotions, fatigue, feelings because we are not machines.
